Bachelor's degrees matter
It has never been more worthwhile to earn a bachelor's degree. Over the course of their careers, graduates with bachelor's degrees earn significantly more than high school graduates. The wage gap between college and high school graduates has never been greater: Graduates with bachelor's degrees earn about $33,200 more per year than those with a high school degree. The average return on investment for undergraduate students at our colleges is $1 million; this takes into account both education costs and 40 years of future earnings.

And the benefits aren’t just financial. College graduates often mention the friendships and connections they made as a highlight of their experience. And Minnesota Private Colleges have great alumni networks — giving you access to people at companies nationwide who are doing exciting work.

Why consider Minnesota Private Colleges?

Minnesota Private Colleges are regularly ranked as some of the best colleges in the country and they want you to apply. Plus, they’re right here in Minnesota!

SMALL CLASS SIZES
With campuses that boast of one professor for every 12 students, you’ll have direct connections with experts in their fields. And with 99 percent of classes having fewer than 50 students, you’ll be sure to get to know your professors. At Minnesota Private Colleges, you’re never just a number.

PREPARE FOR WHAT’S NEXT
With nearly 160 majors and minors we have a degree that’s right for you, so you can pursue what you’re passionate about and start a career.

BACHELOR’S DEGREES MATTER
It has never been more worthwhile to earn a bachelor’s degree. Over the course of their careers, graduates with bachelor’s degrees earn significantly more than high school graduates. The wage gap between college and high school graduates has never been greater: Graduates with bachelor’s degrees earn about $33,200 more per year than those with a high school degree. The average return on investment for undergraduate students at our colleges is $1 million; this takes into account both education costs and 40 years of future earnings.
Block transfer options

For community college students who have completed the Minnesota Transfer Curriculum or earned an associate of arts degree, block transfer can make things simpler. The Minnesota Transfer Curriculum and AA degrees meet core curriculum or general education requirements at 12 of our institutions.

If all credit transfer policies are met, students coming with Associate of Arts degrees may have enough credits to have junior standing. (The amount of time left to complete a bachelor’s degree, however, will vary and may require more than two years. Time to graduation will also be affected by a student’s chosen major. Note that each institution may have some additional unique graduation requirements, such as language, philosophy or religion courses.)

Please contact transfer counselors at institutions you are interested in to learn more.

For students who have not completed the Minnesota Transfer Curriculum or an associate of arts degree and are interested in transferring to these 12 institutions, determining how existing coursework will be handled for transfer is based on a course-by-course review. That’s also the general process at the five private institutions that do not have block transfer policies.

Find out more helpful information on this on the institution-specific profile pages that follow. There are a lot of details to understand about how credit transfer works: follow-up with the transfer specialists at our institutions with any and all questions.

Can I afford it?

Our prospective students’ abilities, motivation and values are more important than their bank account balances.

Most students and their families are surprised to learn that need-based grants, scholarships, low-interest loans and work-study opportunities are available at private colleges to help cover tuition, fees, room and board, books and miscellaneous expenses. Our institutions provide $730 million in institutional grants and scholarships each year.

Do not take yourself out of the game by ruling out a particular college or university based solely on overall tuition. Unless you apply and find out what type of financial aid is available, you will never know if you could have attended your first-choice college. Looking to hear more about what may be possible? Reach out — transfer specialists at these institutions are eager to help you, including on the financial questions you have.

SOME TIPS TO KEEP IN MIND:

- There are specific grants at some institutions that are awarded just to transfer students.
- Know the different between “net price” and “sticker price.” While the overall tuition, or “sticker price” of a private college is higher than that of a public institution, once grants and scholarships are factored in the actual out-of-pocket cost is significantly lower and more in-line with the costs of public institutions.
- Always file for financial aid and complete the FAFSA. The FAFSA is the Free Application for Federal Student Aid, and you should apply even if you think you may not qualify for financial aid. It is required to be considered for almost every type of financial assistance.
How do I learn more?

Ask many college students how they chose their school and they’ll tell you they “just knew” when they visited and were surrounded by the students, staff, faculty and community. It’s a good idea to visit different kinds of institutions — different sizes, settings and types — so you have a good basis for comparison.

While COVID-19 has changed how prospective transfer students can visit colleges, there are still lots of options.

And there are virtual options too. Check out colleges’ website content for transfer students or call transfer specialists with your questions. You can find key links on the following profile pages.

(And for community college staff, reach out to the Council at colleges@mnprivatecolleges.org if you ever are seeking more information and ways to connect with transfer-focused staff at our institutions.)
Are there many transfer students at Minnesota Private Colleges?

Transfer students are thriving at Minnesota Private Colleges. Last fall 2,200 students transferred to one of our 17 institutions. Transfer students represent 21 percent of all new students on campus. Transfers come to our colleges from all types of institutions, with 53 percent from community colleges, 25 percent from public universities, and 18 percent from other private nonprofit colleges. And 67 percent of our transfers come from colleges in Minnesota, while 33 percent come from out-of-state.

And transfer students represent a wide range of backgrounds. Twenty-three percent of undergraduates are first-generation college students, meaning that they are the first in their family to go to college. And 35 percent of new transfer students are students of color and Native American students.

Minnesota Private Colleges are an important option for transfer students. Most of our students receive grants and scholarships making college more affordable. Specific transfer scholarships are available based on leadership and academic achievements and vary by campus.

Take the next step; reach out to college admissions offices to learn more, including about application requirements and scholarship deadlines.

At St. Thomas, we have a story to tell.

- A story about a small, liberal arts college that transformed into one of the nation’s Top 20 Catholic universities.
- A story about an unprecedented transition to Division I athletics.
- A story about an education that combines the practical with the purposeful – empowering you to make a difference in our Minneapolis-St. Paul community.

It’s a story that’s turning the page to a new chapter. And transfer students like you are helping to write it. That’s why we’ve made it easier than ever to transfer to St. Thomas – increasing our scholarships and allowing students who complete the Minnesota Transfer Curriculum (MnTC) or an Associate of Arts (A.A.) degree to satisfy almost all of our core curriculum requirements.

Program type: Accelerated post-baccalaureate degree for college graduates with a degree in a non-nursing major.

Program schedule: Five semesters

FINANCIAL AID & COST

Tuition and fees/financial aid

Scholarships: While scholarships are not provided through Concordia College or the Nursing Department, some employers and regional health systems offer assistance. We encourage you to seek out these opportunities.

ADMISSIONS

Admission to Concordia’s Accelerated Nursing program is selective. Concordia takes into account your academic records, professional references and experiences and also carefully reviews your personal statement to determine your character, work ethic and motivation to become an RN. Qualified applicants who complete the process early have a better chance for admission. Applications will be reviewed in the order they are received after all materials are complete and transcripts have been verified.

Eligibility requirements

In addition to a completed application and all required material, applicants must meet all the following criteria to be considered for acceptance:

- A baccalaureate or graduate degree in a non-nursing major from a U.S. regionally accredited college or university. The degree must be completed and verified via official transcript(s) prior to admission review.
- A cumulative GPA of 2.8 or higher on all post-high school work.
- All prerequisite coursework with a cumulative GPA of 3.0 or higher (shown on an official transcript) must be completed prior to admission review. All science courses should be completed within the last seven years.

Online application

Application fee: $50

Application deadlines: Rolling October through June until the cohort is filled

Other application requirements: Must submit two professional references, a current resume (1 page) and a personal statement (2-3 pages).
Whether you are finishing a degree or pursuing a career change, Concordia University, St. Paul offers associate and bachelor's degree programs that fit your needs and busy life. Our flexible, student-centered accelerated programs connect scholarly thought to action, bridging the gap between theory and practice by encouraging you to draw on the knowledge you have already learned on the job and in life. Full financial aid in the form of grants and loans may be available.

Our partnerships with many area community colleges offer students a streamlined opportunity to take the next step in their education. If you have an associate degree, you can benefit from a seamless transfer of credits allowing you to maximize the value of your current education and get a head start on your next degree at CSP.
