Choosing one of Minnesota's Private Colleges

THE FACTS

A liberal arts education from one of Minnesota's 17 private colleges and universities broadens horizons, sharpens communication and decision-making skills and equips students for participating in work and society. Here are some good reasons you should consider one of our colleges or universities.

Students and Degrees

In fall 2015, Minnesota's Private Colleges enrolled 58,702 students.

Minnesota's Private Colleges award about 30% of the state's four-year degrees. For a listing of which colleges have certain majors, check out the majors grid on pages 27-29 or search our College Finder tool at www.mnprivatecolleges.org/college-finder.

Our share of degrees for specific areas of study:

- 49% of all physical science degrees
- 45% of all nursing degrees
- 38% of all foreign language degrees
- 33% of all biological science degrees
- 33% of all business degrees
- 32% of all mathematics and statistics degrees
- 31% of all visual and performing arts degrees
- 22% of all education degrees (many future teachers from our colleges do not major in education, but complete a liberal arts major in the field of their choice)

Excellence

Minnesota's Private Colleges are committed to undergraduate teaching with:

- One professor for every 12 students
- 61% of classes with fewer than 20 students and 99% with fewer than 50 students
- Courses taught by highly qualified faculty — 80% of full-time faculty hold doctorates or other terminal degrees
- 66% of private college students graduate within four years — the best rate in Minnesota and the Midwest

We asked graduates of Minnesota's private colleges and universities about their college experience and compared the results with national public universities in a six-state area. Our alumni reported that:

- Compared to the public university students, they experienced stronger levels of faculty interaction, tied to smaller class sizes, classes taught by professors and personal interaction with faculty.
- They had higher levels of academic involvement (internships, off-campus study and research and tutoring than students at regional national public universities and national highly selective private colleges.
- They were highly satisfied with their education.
- They believed their education prepared them well for life and career, through the development of writing skills, leadership, moral principles and a sense of purpose in life.

Access and Diversity

- In 2015, nearly 3,000 students transferred to one of Minnesota's Private Colleges; 24% of all new students on campus are transfer students.
- 21% of our students are first-generation college students, meaning that they are the first in their family to go to college.
- In the fall of 2015, 23% of new entering students were students of color.
- More than 7,600 undergraduate students of color, excluding international students, enroll at Minnesota's Private Colleges.

FINANCIAL AID

We want prospective students and their families to know that ability, motivation and values are more important than their bank balance. Most students and their families are surprised to learn that:

- More than 31% of private college students come from families with incomes below $50,000 — about the same proportion as at the state's public four-year colleges and universities.
- 95% of our first-year students receive grants and scholarships that don't have to be paid back.
- Our institutions provide more than $523 million in institutional grants and scholarships each year.
- Thanks to financial aid, the average amount that families actually pay for tuition is considerably less than the posted price — about half.
- Grants, scholarships, low-interest loans and work-study opportunities are available at private colleges to help cover tuition, fees, room and board, books and miscellaneous expenses.
See list of all tuition and fees at www.mnprivatecolleges.org/how-pay/what-does-it-cost.
- Transfer scholarships are available based on leadership and academic achievements and vary by campus. Please contact the college admissions offices to obtain application requirements and scholarship deadlines.

Student financial aid programs sponsored by the federal government include:

- Federal Pell Grant Program
- Federal Stafford Student Loan Program
- Perkins Loan Program

The State of Minnesota also helps students through:

- The Minnesota State Grant Program
- College Work Study
- Student Educational Loan Fund (SELF)

Don't assume you can't afford a private college. Talk to a transfer representative from any of our 17 private colleges to find out how affordable a private college education can be. Contact information can be found on college profile pages.

AUGSBURG COLLEGE

Nestled in a vibrant and lively Minneapolis neighborhood, Augsburg is shaped by our urban and global settings and defined by excellence in the liberal arts and professional studies. Auggies have the opportunity to experience hands-on learning, discover their callings, and serve their neighbors. The trademark of an Augsburg education is direct, personal experience, which is supported by an engaged community committed to intentional diversity in its life and work.

The College of Saint Benedict, a college for women, and Saint John's University, a college for men, are nationally recognized, Catholic, liberal arts institutions located six miles apart in central Minnesota. The colleges have a common undergraduate curriculum, identical degree requirements and a single academic calendar. All academic departments are joint, and classes are offered throughout the day on both campuses. The two campuses are linked by a free shuttle service; they are only a few minutes outside of St. Cloud and an hour from the Twin Cities. As Catholic colleges, they are guided by the principles of the schools' Benedictine sponsors. Eighty percent of all students live on campus.

Saint John's University, a college for men, and the College of Saint Benedict, a college for women, are nationally recognized, Catholic, liberal arts institutions located six miles apart in central Minnesota. The colleges have a common undergraduate curriculum, identical degree requirements and a single academic calendar. All academic departments are joint and classes are offered throughout the day on both campuses. The two campuses are linked by a free shuttle service; they are only a few minutes outside of St. Cloud and an hour from the Twin Cities. As Catholic colleges, they are guided by the principles of the schools' Benedictine sponsors. Eighty percent of all students live on campus.

One of the nation's leading liberal arts colleges, St. Olaf College offers a distinctive undergraduate education grounded in academic rigor, residential learning, global engagement and a Lutheran faith tradition. Many excellent colleges touch on one, two or even three of these educational characteristics but St. Olaf offers a unique combination of all four: an intense academic program that sharpens minds and an emphasis on a global perspective that broadens them; the vitality of a residential community that engages thoughtful people; and a religious tradition that encourages reflection. By cultivating the habits of mind and heart that enable graduates to lead lives of financial independence, professional accomplishment, personal fulfillment and community engagement, St. Olaf College fully prepares students to make a meaningful difference in a changing world.

For Undergraduate Options

Use the College Finder to search the most up-to-date information on more than 140 undergraduate majors at our campuses—along with many minors and concentrations. Discover where you can pursue your academic interests!

Add in sports and arts that interest you:

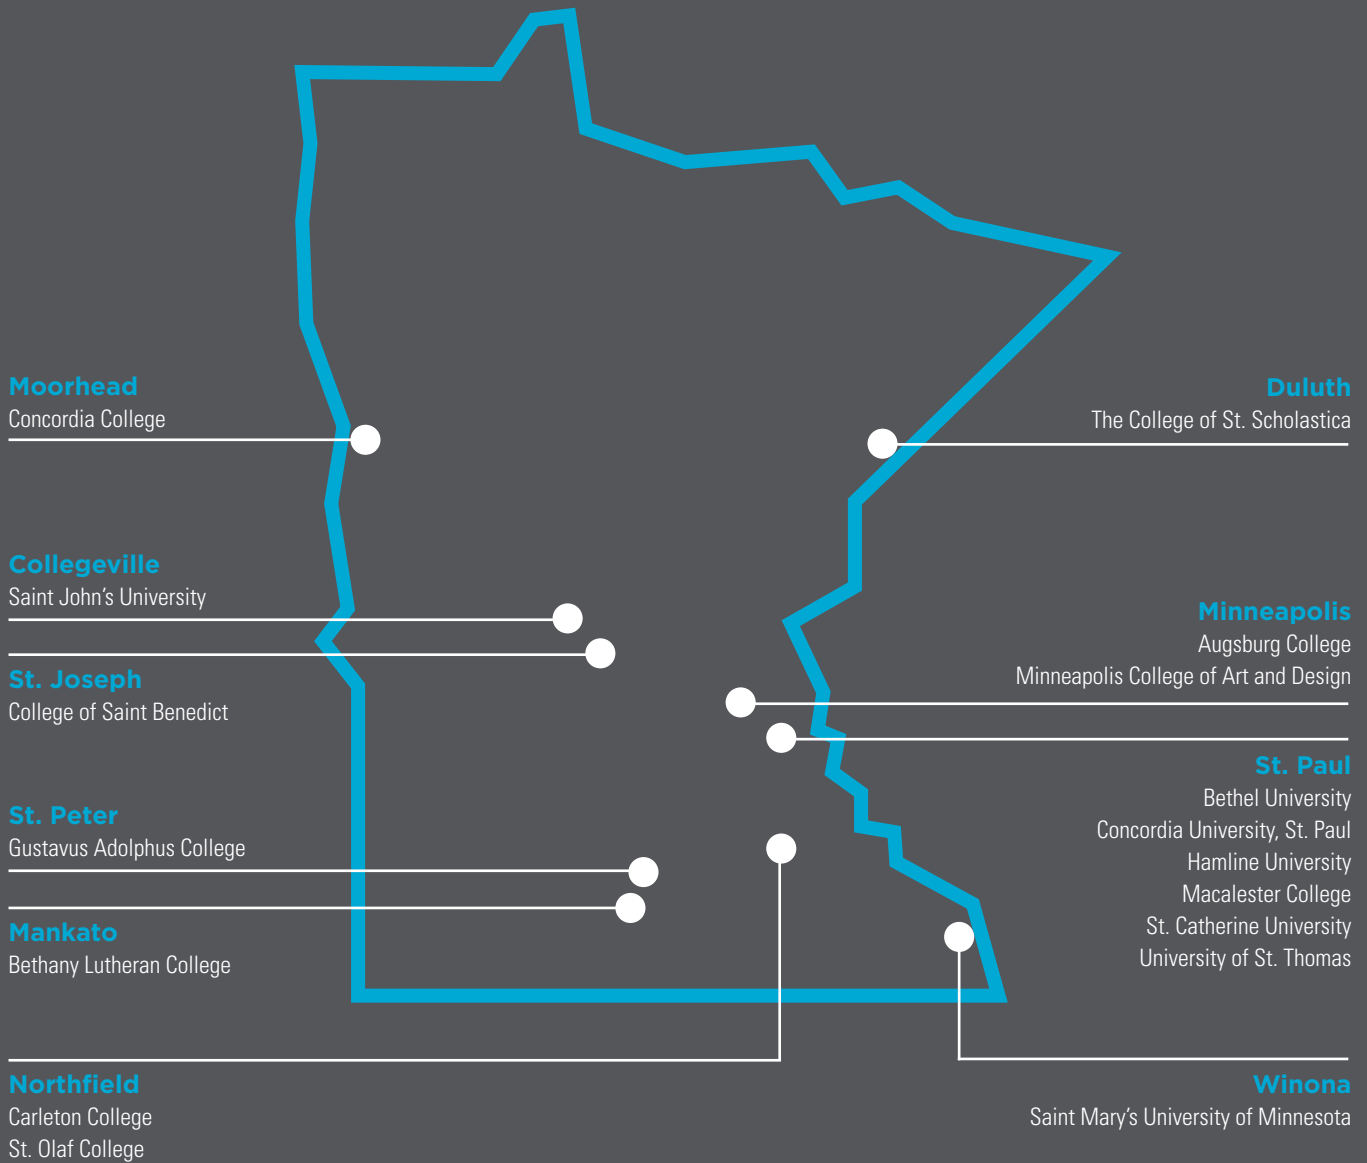

- varsity athletics programs (16, such as basketball, tennis and soccer)
- club sports (39, such as rugby, cycling and karate)
- fine arts offerings (36, such as symphony orchestras, gospel choirs and literary magazines)

With the College Finder, you can search for these activities on their own—or in combination with your search for an academic interest.

Looking for graduate, certificate or licensure programs? You can search for these areas, too.

And you can search all academic programs for evening/weekend offerings, as well as those offered online (entirely or in a blended format).
